DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claim 1 recites the limitation " other cables wired to said engine and a part coupled to said engine " in last line of claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. It is indefinite as to what other cables have been claimed.
4. Claims 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Where applicant acts as his or her own lexicographer to specifically define a term of a claim contrary to its ordinary meaning, the written description must clearly redefine the claim term and set forth the uncommon definition so as to put one reasonably skilled in the art on notice that the applicant intended to so redefine that claim term. Process Control Corp. v. HydReclaim Corp., 190 F.3d 1350, 1357, 52 USPQ2d 1029, 1033 (Fed. Cir. 1999). The term "diameter" in claims 13-17 is used by the claims to mean "sectional area", while the accepted meaning is:

Art Unit: 3747

a. A straight line segment passing through the center of a figure, especially of a circle or sphere, and terminating at the periphery. b. The length of such a segment. c. Thickness or width.<sup>1</sup>."

The term is indefinite because the specification does not clearly redefine the term. Albeit, applicant mentions "where the cable C1 has a wire diameter or sectional area equal to one of the cables C2 to C4" this does not redefine the term but rather states to compare between C1 diameter and C2 to C4 diameters or sectional area of C1 and the sectional area of C2 to C4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Roberts et al (US/4,074,670) in view of Roberts et al. (US/4,158,346) referred to as "670 and "346 respectively .

'670 disclose and engine having rubber engine mounts and a ground strap 60 connected to engine 12 and body 14 so that an electrical path is formed therebetween. (Col. 3, lines 9-15) However, in this patent Roberts does not disclose the conventional wiring of a power and return of a starter motor.

'346 is introduced to show the conventional wiring of a starter motor, shown is cable (50) connecting (+) battery to starter and cable (46) connecting (-) of battery to top of engine. (col. 3, lines 8-13).

At the time of the invention, Roberts would have had the conventional starter cables 46, and 50 and a cable 60 connecting to chassis in patent '670. The diameter size of all cables would have been the same AWG (automotive wire gauge) suitable for the current drawing needs of the system.

In regards to claims 5-9 and 13-17 the diameters are obvious to one of ordinary skill in through routine optimization or material selection. The applicant should note that the selection of a known material based upon its suitability for the intended use is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Leshin, 227 F.2d 197, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

Motivation to combine the conventional starter motor wiring disclosed by '346 into '670 would have been to have means of starting engine.
